You not only save a lot of grain from destructive teeth this year but you diminish the numbers you have got to provide for during the winter thus simplifying the problem for next spring. A few packages of Ever Ready Copier Poison and Kill 'Em Quick' left, it will pay you to go over them once more. The Chauvin Pharmacy.

The following is the report of the delegate (Mrs. G. Burton) from the Ribstone Womens Institute who attended the annual convention of the Alberta Womens Institute which was held in the Palliser Hotel, Calgary, June 12 to 15.

Miss Isabel Noble, President was in the chair; there was a good crowd, about 300 delegates. "O Canada" was sung by all. The chief address on the first morning was by the Hon. George Hoadley on the present status of Alberta. W. I. He told us he was in favor of our institute, quite realizing the noble work we are doing and strongly assured us he would heartily support it.

Mrs. F. W. Hughes convener (Cavendish) next spoke on Education and Better Schools. She told of many things the W.I.s were doing for the betterment of schools and one thing that particularly interested us was the W.I. offering prizes for personal appearance, best attendance, clean finger nails, hands and necks, clean teeth and so on; the chief of her agency will appear in our local paper shortly.

On Wednesday evening a big reception was held in the hall room of the Palliser Hotel and the delegates spent a most enjoyable time, songs and recitations, and stage dancing. The most amusing part of it all was the Dutch Grog dance by two little girls and a small boy, which caused much laughter.

Cake, ice cream and coffee were served to about 500 delegates and other visitors at the close.

Thursday morning we were entertained at the Allen Palace Theatre with an organ recital. Miss Louisa Lovey gave us quite a talk on Motion Picture censorship. The picture show entitled "Why Announce Your Marriage" was most laughable and too comic for words.

Mrs. Nellie McClung gave us a splendid address. I wish you could all meet and hear Miss Isabel Noble President of the A. W. I. for 8 years. She is so lively and witty in all her remarks. Everybody was so sorry she resigned this year. The delegates contributed together and presented her with a lovely little gold watch and which touched her very much.

Mrs. Margaret Lewis of Edmonton factory inspector then spoke, asking for her subject "Making Both Ends Meet." She told of the splendid results that had been obtained through the first aid classes held under the workman's compensation act which were largely attended by working girls. Mrs. W. H. Edgerton of Calgary, B.S. strongly urged women to buy the home made article and to increase our own manufactures which would give more employment to our girls, she recommended every woman to read Mrs. Judge Murphy's new book entitled "The Black Candle".

Mrs. W. H. Edgerton of Stone, our own district director called particular attention to one Institute which she believed should have a banner, it had 22 members and 18 babies.

His Worship Mayor Adams of Calgary gave the delegates a very warm welcome, and the President of the W. I. (Mrs. Grevett) was most kind and hospitable; she arranged to have automobiles and a big observation car to take us all around the city.

A meeting of the Association was held in the Chauvin High School Sept. 16, to finish some of the business of the Fair held recently. The President, Mrs. Saul presided.

Minutes of last meeting were read and on motion adopted.

- Bills were read from the following:
- L. E. Roy (serge paper) 80
 - Chauvin Pharmacy (Writing pad, etc.) 1.05
 - Mr. Herbert (gate service) 2.00
 - National Express 1.25
 - Chauvin Chronicle (Price lists) 12.50

Moved Miss Edgerton, Miss Roy that bills be paid. Motion carried.

The secretary was instructed to write to the Agricultural Society and Village of Chauvin thanking them for the use of the Fair Grounds, Buildings and Flag.

On motion of Mrs. Millar-Miss Polking we decided that a manager be added to the list of officers for the ensuing year. Mr. Boucher was elected to fill his office.

A committee consisting of Messrs Saul, Boucher, W. Goodall, Misses Edgerton, Boucher, and Roy, was appointed to work out a recommendation of different schools in the matter of deciding on the school having the best expense at the fair according to scale of points in Fair Bulletin and number of prizes taken.

Regarding special prizes in Art awarded to several pupils by the Education Commission of Mr. Fuller, Inspector of Schools, it was decided that these would be treated the same as first prizes.

On motion meeting adjourned.

Destructive Fire At Ole Arneson's

Ole Arneson had the misfortune to lose his stable, cow barn, granary, implement shed, and other outbuildings, together with all his feed, his wheat, harness and number of other things by fire last Saturday afternoon.

It appears that his little boy, a child of some seven years of age, had been in the attic and was the cause of the outbreak. Mr. Arneson was away from home at the time and the flames, fanned by a west wind, proved too strong for Mrs. Arneson to combat. Telephonics called for assistance were speedily answered, and about two loads of grain were saved from being lost.

The house which stood not far away was, most fortunately, saved.

Ribstone W.I.

A pie social and entertainment will be given by the R.W.I. on Sept 28th at 8 o'clock.

The entertainment will take the form of parlor games and amusements suitable for both old and young. A "Cuppy How" will be erected with two "merry little gipsies" in attendance, so come prepared to get your fortunes told.

Pies will be auctioned off; so every lady please bring a pie. Don't forget the date Sept. 28th. Everybody welcome.

A clear conscience is a soft pillow

J. A. MacKenzie, representing the Chauvin G. W. V. A., was present at Wainwright on the occasion of the Visit of the Governor-General and his wife, Lord and Lady Byng of Vimy, Saturday last.

The first thing Byng did on his arrival was to enquire how many returned men were present. Over 100 were there to greet him. It matters not one wit to Byng that some of the boys were dressed in overalls, he fraternized with them all. A typical incident may be described. A little distance apart stood roughly apparelled man on horse back, Byng seeing him walked across and finding him to be one of the boys who served in Mesopotamia, conversed with him for a long time—while the crowd waited. Another incident, a woman who could not afford some of the smart apparel that some of us can afford, stood with two children in a pram. Amongst those present the woman she stood alone, walked over and entered into friendly conversation, being later joined by Lord Byng. Such is the type of real people the Byngs are—Men amongst men.

Lord and Lady Byng were taken for a drive through the Buffalo Park and, of course, were given a feed of buffalo meat, and given a presentation. The children of the Wainwright schools were out in full force, and patriotic songs.

Curlers Meeting

A very enthusiastic meeting of the Chauvin Curling Club was held last Tuesday evening in J. A. Code's office. Amongst those present we noted Messrs L. E. Roy, H. N. Freeman, J. A. Code, M. C. McKeechie, C. G. Foryan, G. W. Allan, Rev. Miller, J. A. Code, M. Carrels, O. Hawthorne, C. Stewart, A. E. Keith, W. McCluskey, J. Saker, L. D'Albertainson, Mr. McKeechie, chairman asked for the financial report to be read. It showed a balance in hand about sufficient to pay the taxes on the property.

Moved by Foryan and Code that these taxes be paid. Carried.

The election of officers for the ensuing season was the next item of business. J. A. Code nominated L. E. Roy as president stating that Roy had been a member for a number of years and had not served in this capacity before. His election was carried unanimously. C. McKeechie, the retiring president, was elected, on a motion by C. G. Foryan as vice president. H. N. Freeman, who had been acting as secretary pro tem for this meeting was unanimously elected secretary and treasurer. Seven men being nominated for the executive committee, a ballot was taken and the successful candidates were J. A. Code, G. W. Allan, O. Hawthorne, A. E. Keith, J. A. MacKenzie.

The matter of fees was discussed at length, and it was decided to fix the season fees at $10.00. This amount being the minimum upon which the rink could be run.

Several other matters were discussed and left over until a latter meeting for decision.

Womens Institute Working Hard For Education Matters

Advocating the establishment of constituency scholarships similar to those given in agricultural schools, which would enable the girl or boy of the rural districts to continue their studies beyond the 8th grade through the medium of the correspondence school, Mrs. P. W. Hughes, of Cavendish convener of the education and better school committee of the Womens Institutes, gave a splendid report of the work of her committee at the Tuesday afternoon session of the W.I.

She began by saying that in a new country like Alberta, where immigration is so earnestly encouraged, it is a distressing fact that many of our children do not find the comfort and health in their homes and school life that they should, at a time when the deepest impressions of their lives are being formed. Through the W.I. the rural schools have been getting a thorough renovating, for one of the committee is to insure sanitation and hygiene for the pupils. There have been many instances where the members of the W. I. have personally cleaned, repaired, calumined and painted the interiors of the schools and their children had to attend, in dozens of sparsely settled communities where children are compelled to walk several miles to school, the institute women have co-operated with the teachers in supplying equipment and serving hot lunches, the institute making the arrangements for the necessary supply of milk, sugar, seasoning, staple foods, etc. Many places have built kitchens on to their schools.

In the interest of the children's health, most of the schools are now furnished with sanitary drinking cups, and bubble fountains have been installed. Wonderful has been the change wrought by pretty white curtains, flower pots, window screens, shades, thermometers, clocks, charts, upboards, lockers, musical instruments, sanitary towels etc. All of these things stimulate the child's regard for refined surroundings.

The speaker said that music and good pictures had played an important part in the W.I. better schools movement. Victrolas had been placed in a large number of the schools flag poles had been erected and flags, large and small, donated by the institutes in the districts. This had proved very popular in the broken-barn settlements. Playground equipment and sports goods had been provided. Besides all this, the grounds of the schools had been beautified by the seeding of lawns and planting of trees. Wells had been drilled to secure a supply of water that would make it possible to have basins installed with running water.

To encourage industry, efficiency, and care of personal appearance in the pupils prizes had been offered by the W.I. for certain merits such as best attendance, highest percentage, penmanship, elocution, manual training, domestic science, gardening, clean finger nails, clean necks and hands, clean teeth and so on. Donations of good books had been made and medical inspection of schools

A Useful Hint

A white coat may be cleaned by brushing the following mixture well into the cloth the way of the nap. Mix some powdered pipeclay and whiting, some fuller's earth, and a little blue stone dissolved in vinegar in sufficient quantities to form the whole into a paste; rub into the coat and leave it to dry on. When the coat is quite dry rub it well, beat it to get the dust out, and then brush.

supported by the W.I.

The speaker deplored the fact that only about one or two per cent. of the rural children ever received a high school education. She thought that if it were possible to have graduating exercises and give diplomas to every child completing Grade VIII, it would stimulate interest and be the means of keeping many of the rural children in school much longer or at least until completing the eighth grade. With the great need for more scientific farmers in this province, Mrs. Hughes thought it was most deplorable that more of the children of the rural districts could not be enabled to secure an agricultural college education.

HEALTH COMMITTEE REPORTS

Very complete and full of helpful information was the report of the child welfare and public health committee, presented by the convener, Mrs. D. R. McIvor. In this she urged that every institute have at least one health programme during the year. She pointed out that the activities of her department had included: Pre-natal care of the mother, rural school and school clinics, courses in home-nursing health lectures, etc. Dentistry and medical aid had been provided for many families. All branches of the W. I. had been most many had supported same. She appealed to the members to make use of the health machinery already in operation which includes 22 public health nurses, public health stations and information depots from where health pamphlets are distributed free.

PROBLEM OF THE GIRL

Mrs. Margaret Lewis of Edmonton factored inspector, choosing as her subject "Making Both Ends Meet" gave a thoughtful talk on the living conditions of the country girl who comes to the city to find work, taking as the basis of her address the present minimum wage in Alberta. She pointed out that the child up to school age and for a few years after is well looked after by the government and those societies interested in child welfare, but aside from the C.G.T. and Girl Guide movement, the 'teen age girl is practically left to shift for herself by both government and parents at a time when she needs the most sympathetic counsel and physical care and protection. She thought a clinic system for the girl up to eighteen years of age would be a valuable thing and she particularly advocated the medical inspection of the girl in industry. The speaker told of the wonderful results obtained through the first aid classes held under the workman's compensation act and which were so largely attended by working girls both in Edmonton and Calgary. Another year she said the course would very likely be enlarged.

In pointing out what effect the present minimum wage system had on the employment situation and the training of girls for industry, Mrs. Lewis said that employers would not take untrained workers in and pay them $1 a day as the act required and so there was no apprenticeship learning the trades of millinery or dressmaking and tailoring as in times past, with the result that trained labor had to be brought into the country or production lessened.

Because of this girls were drifting the stenographer market. If Canada women ceased to import their clothes from the United States and demanded the home made article manufacturers would then find it worth their while to employ girls and train them.

"There are too many women importing clothes into this country that should be made at home," said Mrs. Lewis, "and afford a living for our girls."

The terrible temptations and dangers which surround the underpaid girl were emphasized by the speaker, and in this connection she recommended that the women present read Mrs. Arthur Murphy's new book on this subject entitled "The Black Candle." She concluded by saying that all indications for the future of young women were along the lines of industry, and parents should endeavor to put their girls in productive work rather than strain a point to give them an office training.

An insight into the many and wide-spreading interests and activities of the Women's Institutes was given in the reports of the constituency conveners Mrs. James Boyd of Vancouver; Mrs. G. A. Gair of Sorey Plain, and Mrs. W. Hayek, of Sorey, who reported for districts 1, 2, and 3. During the morning and afternoon sessions musical numbers were given by Miss Jean Yull and Mrs. J. S. Davidson, while in the evening Mrs. T. C. Scott and Mrs. J. H. Jamieson sang several selections.

A bricklayer was working on a scaffold when suddenly a brick slipped from his hand.

Down through the air it whizzed, to alight merrily on the head of his mate, who was working below.

"The unfortunate man started dancing about and groaning in agony."

The bricklayer stared down at him, and with something very like contempt in his eyes.

"Come, come," he called down at last, "it can't hurt as much as that, man. Why, it wasn't on your head, but a second!"

The principal of a certain school prided himself on the speed with which his pupils went through the fire drill. When he asked them:—"What would you children do if there was a fire in the building?" the answer he had taught them rolled with astonishing swiftness from their tongues.

One day a very distinguished man was to speak to the pupils. In introducing him the principal asked, Now, children, what would you do if I told you that Sir Henry So-and-So was to lecture here to-day?"

And three hundred voices responded in sing-song: "We would rise promptly, put away our books, and then quietly, and without disorder, but as quickly as possible, file out to the street."

Goodyear All Weather Tread Tires 30 x 34, can now be purchased from J. A. Cide, Chauvin for $18.00. This is another reduction in the price of the reliable Goodyear line of tires. All other sizes are similarly reduced in cost to the buyer whilst the same high standard is being maintained.

Willie: "Not with such a straight face as you do, father. You beat me there."

Watchmaker: "Did your watch stop when it dropped on the floor?"

Dodd: "Yes; did you think it would go through?"

Contributor: "What do you think of my last poem?"

Editor: "Well, I'm glad to hear that it is your last."

Alberta Exhibit

The Alberta government exhibit for fairs in the western states, was shipped from Edmonton this week for Billings, Montana, where the Midland Empire Fair is held. The exhibit will also be shown at the Colorado State Fair at Pueblo, Colorado. The intention during this trip is to concentrate on the irrigation lands of the Lethbridge Northern Irrigation District representative of all Alberta. The exhibit is accompanied by C. G. Groff, publicity commissioner, A. W. Foley and Frank Peterson, of the department of agriculture. Representatives of the irrigation council will also be with the exhibit, Mr. Charlesworth, chairman of the irrigation council, accompanying the exhibit to the Colorado fair. The exhibit is one of the best ever sent out by the province. It was prepared under the supervision of the publicity department by Frank Peterson, who has been engaged in this work for the provincial government for some years, and is considered one of the best experts in Canada in exhibit work.

High Standard Of Exhibits Shown At Edgerton School Fair

The third annual fair of this district, which is composed of eleven schools was very successfully held under ideal conditions on Tuesday the 12th. Inst. at the fair grounds. Threshing interest somewhat, was the grown-up male attendance, but the crowds that did attend plainly showed the interest being taken by those grown-ups in the work of the schools' pupils and very few stayed away that could possibly attend. Indeed, the seniors might easily profit by the time thus spent in viewing the exhibits which were of a very high order all through. It is really remarkable, after one has seen it all, to think that this is all the work of the juniors. This is a truly competitive spirit. Doing their very best in classes so largely filled that it must be a formidable task to the judges to make their decisions, they never seem to think of what is usually uppermost in the minds of a large number of their seniors when fair time comes around—will the prizes be ^{big} enough to pay me for my trouble—that is the least of their difficulties. If they can win a prize no matter be it first or last they are delighted and will come back again with still greater determination to win out, but the monetary side of it is never mentioned. For months those children have applied themselves diligently to the task on which they had set their minds in preparation for the fair; and now—the final test—would the judges give their entries a winning place? What eagerness and expectation is manifest in those youthful faces when the doors are finally thrown open. Of course they could not all win but they had all tried. Those school fairs are very popular and seem to accomplish a great deal of good and are worthy of the best support. There are classes for all grades and classes are provided for nearly everything pertaining to the great rural industry, agriculture. We see sleek and well cared for calves, sheep, lambs, colts, poultry, and last but not least rows and rows on the exhibition benches of the very finest vegetables that can be grown anywhere. We doubt very much if such exhibits would not obtain good placing in the senior competition. Science and arts are not lost to sight in this agricultural competition, and one particularly by the landscape in water colors drew exceptional comment from both the judges and public who viewed those fine works of art. Too much praise cannot be given to the teachers of the different schools who were so successful in their exhibits. To them is due the moulding of the character of our future generation and we must admit that they are making a success. Their ^{knoswlnssleohr dknwoudttktow} encouragement, advice and help all need in solving the many problems confronting the youthful exhibitors. However, they should feel proud for their efforts in the unqualified success of this great day. A very important item which bears on the success of the fair is the fine work of the secretary, Ronald Hullah, principal of the Edgerton School. He has a tremendous amount of work to go through in that everything will

Resignation of J. B. Musselman as Secretary of Association Accepted

A request that F. W. Riddell, general manager of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator company, Regina, be named on the new directorate of the Canadian National railways was contained in a resolution passed yesterday by the executive of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers, and forwarded to Premier Mackenzie King and Hon. W. Kennedy, minister of railways.

Resignation of J. B. Musselman, managing director and secretary of the association, was accepted. A. J. McPail, Elford, was appointed as the new secretary.

The post of managing director, left vacant by Musselman's resignation, was not filled. With his retirement the president, J. A. Mahabag is to assume larger responsibilities than heretofore.

Redemption Period 1921 Tax Sales To October 31, 1923

New Order-In-Council Applies to All Lands Except In Cities

An extension of time for the redemption of land sold in the 1921 tax sales, applying to all lands except those in cities, towns and villages, has been made by the department of municipal affairs, and an order-in-council has been passed accordingly. The time limit, which was originally one year from the date of sale, is now put at October 31, 1923.

Considerable land has been redeemed during the past year under the terms of the tax recovery act, it is stated by officials of the department. Developments in this respect have been fairly satisfactory, but owing to prevailing financial conditions though out the province the government has taken the view that some further opportunity should be given to persons desirous of redeeming their lands, and an extension of the redemption period has therefore been granted.

ALLEVIATION

A moratorium is threatened by the Saskatchewan government for protection of the grain growers of that province against pressing creditors. This is a very serious step, one that should never be taken except under extreme duress. It is no frivolous vagary. It is rather a drastic measure for the alleviation—not cure—of a critical period wherein the people are on the verge of bankruptcy.

A BREATHING SPACE

The grain grower, despite all news of good crops, big yields, etc., is in a serious predicament at this turn of the wheel. Concisely expressed, the costs of his produce are greater than his proceeds from produce sales; he is thus carrying on business at a loss. In this condition the most that a moratorium can do is to shield him from utter financial destruction and give him a space of time to recover his balance, deferring meanwhile the necessity of immediately paying the accrued and accruing indebtednesses.

DISADVANTAGES

Not forgetting the advantage of the immediate protection thus afforded, it is well to remember that the moratorium is like a two-edged sword and cuts another way. The application of this measure absolutely destroys the future credit—loans will not be available either from banks or mortgage companies; and all trading must be reduced to a cash basis. The moratorium acts like a black mark against the character of the province as an whole, destroying its fair name. It acts also as a deterrent to immigration, thus weakening the price of our lands should we need to sell.

NOT A CURE

For the purpose of argument, let us assume that the measure is enforced, and that we produce another crop (let us say an average one at the present average crop) and where do we arrive? Still we have no more ability to pay; we have the old debts plus interest together with any further debts and losses to meet. Briefly we will need an extension of the moratorium. Extending our argument we will find that the extension must be carried on indefinitely—which is an impossibility. Confusion and financial chaos result.

PROS & CONS

Without a doubt the threat of the moratorium is to strengthen the importunities of collectors and protect the homes and interests of those who have sunk their all in producing food for the millions, and as such, and as such alone will it be of service. To all others it is a dangerous sharp weapon inflicting grievous injury. It injures even the man who can only pay a fair proportion of his debts, for he is tempted to relax from the strain of effort and privation and to rest in worse than he now is. Whilst the man who is better placed finds none of that credit which he could use to advantage.

It is impossible to halt the moratorium with enthusiasm; but we may reasonably hope that it's treat will be effective in protecting all deserving cases, and all such as stand in absolute need of such protection.

BOY JARRED FROM TOP LUMBER WAGON; DIES SHORTLY AFTER

Four-year-old Louis Sylvester Bowser, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Bowser, 11734 82nd street, died as a result of injuries sustained when he was thrown from his father's lumber wagon as it was crossing Jasper at 82nd street at 4 p.m. on Saturday afternoon.

As there were no external marks of injuries beyond a cut on one of the fingers, which or may not have been caused by the fall, Coroner Dr. Ford ordered a post-mortem examination which disclosed a rupture of the liver. The cause of death was shock and internal hemorrhage from ruptured liver caused by being thrown to the hard pavement.

The boy was riding on the top of the loaded wagon when the wheel caught in the street car tracks, coming out with a jerk, which threw the boy off. The injured child was carried into Dr. Bell's office where he lived for about thirty-five minutes.—Edmonton Journal.

Mr. Leonard Bowser is the son of Mrs. A. Herbert, and was one of our old time residents. We extend to Mr. and Mrs. Bowser and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert the sympathy of their many friends in this district in their bereavement.

Edgerton Echoes

Well boys, here we are. Stanley Morrow is the first nlmrod in our community to bag a goose. His chap-erone? goes so anyway. Now this is strange. We are told they took out two tame wild geese (now that was a nonsensical statement but it is right) for decoys and when we accused them of shooting one of their decoys, they declared they brought back three geese. Yes, and as is usual in such stories, two great big fellows in the flock were shot and fell into a little bluff and they could not find them etc., etc.

A very successful school fair was held last Tuesday, a full report of which appears in this issue.

N. E. Cook, of the Imperial Lumber Co., Ltd., is in Edgerton on business and expects to stay for a day or two.

Hatty Lawson had the misfortune to lose his house by fire on Saturday. He happened to be in town on business when the fire started and we are told that everything was lost.

Considerable threshing has been done in this district and will amount to a favorable week. The stocks in the fields should be rather scarce.

Five horses, supposed to belong to Fred Appleby, were killed by the early morning jitney last Thursday. This will bring a loss to Fred.

Mrs. McBrien declares that the oranges in the grove on her farm are nearly ripe, and that frost has not hurt them any. We are very sceptical about this and feel sure that she means pumpkins, because she said she had potatoes as big as our feet. Now you all know how big they are. Maybe she was just joking.

The church was very appropriately decorated last Sunday, the occasion being Thanksgiving. Rev. Smith preached at the morning service and Rev. Maddocks occupied the pulpit in the evening. Both services were well attended. A feature of the evening service was a song very effectively sung by Miss Maddocks.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Kimball, a son.

Dr. Smith, of Edmonton, along with a friend, Mr. Andrews, of the same city, motored down Sunday to spend a day or two hunting in our district. Of course the genial Doc. got a warm welcome for he is a prime favorite with everybody and we are all pleased to have him in our midst again even for a short visit. We hope both he and Mr. Andrews have good luck and also hope the ammunition "don't give out."

Sid Pawsey is trying his darndedest to locate a seemingly very elusive flock of geese. As far as we know he has not been successful yet but fully expects to report favorably next week.

We wonder why so many cars need special attention etc., etc. for a little while on Sabbath mornings.

We have a notion to hire an assistant to manufacture echoes and so release us of the terrible responsibility of making these.

We saw a notice in one of this week's issues of a Saskatoon contemporary stating that some beer with a kick in it had been found in transit at Saskatoon, and that it had been confiscated and would be destroyed, probably. We wonder why "probably" was used. Maybe they did not know how dry they would be when the order to destroy was given.

Assorted Cookies, Doughnuts, Mut fin and Pies for sale every day at Chauvin Bakery.

run smoothly, and when we were told that he received all the entries during the forenoon of the fair day, tabulated them each in their respective classes, prepared the judges books, made out the winners from the judges books (the number system of entry was used in this case), also the winners of the short program of sports, and actually afternoon, we think that he made quite a record. He modestly admits that if he did not have the help of the other teachers he could not do it. During the time the doors were closed while judging was in progress, a short programme of sports was run off for their favorites.

It was a sight to see some of the races, and with so many entries in some of the events, the judges at the finish were often at a loss to know the real winners. Every one was jolly and each and every one pulled for their favorites.

Miss Scott, Messrs Gandler, Howe and Elliott all of the School of Agriculture Vermilion, and Mr. Fisher, Inspector of Schools, Wainwright, officiated as judges and their task was no easy one; however they worked hard and the doors were soon opened so that the expectant pupils and equally expectant parents could view the results.

The Diploma, presented by the Department of Agriculture of Alberta to the school having the best exhibit at was won by the Senior room of Edgerton School District No. 2044, though the competition was most keen, the Junior room and McCaffery School District coming closely behind.

The following schools were included in the district: McCaffery, Doker, Aspen; Bloomington Valley; Saddle Hill; Silgo; Empire; Battle Valley; Prospect Valley; Edgerton Senior Room, and Edgerton Junior Room.

In order that soil conditions might be equalized as much as possible, in some classes two schools were paired and the number of prizes in those and the number of prizes in those classes was increased; this is a commendable way of overcoming certain difficulties.

Bulbs Suitable For Winter Flowering

BY A LOCAL GARDENER

During the long cheerless winter months when all outdoor plant life has shed its leaves and flowers, what could be finer or more desirable than a few gaily colored flowers to brighten your home where most of the time must be spent indoors.

For this purpose flowering bulbs of which there are a great many different kinds fill a most important place, but only a few of those requiring ordinary conditions for their development, and of easy culture will be dealt with.

Hyacinths—The Dutch and Roman varieties, in my opinion hold first place for their fragrance, beautiful flowers of many colors and easy culture.

To obtain satisfactory results with either good bulbs are essential, they should be mature, good sized, smooth and heavy.

Holland produces the supply of Dutch Hyacinths for the world, and the industry is almost as important as the dairy industry there. Hyacinths are propagated from very small bulbs which take from three to six years to mature. Many cheap bulbs which are placed on the market by growers in need of money, generally immature bulbs which are not satisfactory, and it is better to purchase a few good bulbs at a reasonable price than a lot of cheap ones of inferior quality.

The Roman Hyacinth is grown almost exclusively in France and imported to other parts of the world.

The Dutch Hyacinth is doubtless the most useful of bulbs for indoor culture and a general favorite. There are two varieties, single and double in a large variety of beautiful colors.

Each mature bulb should produce one large well formed spike of bloom, and the single variety is preferable to the double, as they generally produce finer flowers and both can be grown in pots or water with the same treatment.

To grow in pots, prepare the soil by mixing one part each of thoroughly rotted turf, well rotted cow manure, leaf mould and sufficient coarse clean sand to make the compost porous, pulverize all thoroughly and place in a heap in the sun, turn and mix each day for four or five days before using.

Pots for single bulbs should be either four or five inch, according to size of bulb. In planting cover the drainage hole in pot with a crock or stone and fill to within one inch of the top with compost, which should be moist, pressing lightly.

Scoop out enough to hold the bulb so that the top is one inch below the top of pot, don't press the bulb down, when finished the compost should be one inch below the top of the pot.

Water sufficiently to settle the soil stand the pots in a box on a thick layer of ashes or dry coarse sand. Cover the whole to a depth of four or five inches with sand, ashes or moss. Place out of doors or in a cool cellar with lots of fresh air. Keep them moist to make good roots which should take from five to six weeks. It is very important that the roots should be well developed before the pots are brought to the light which should be done gradually.

When growing a generous watering with manure water is very beneficial but should be discontinued when the plants are in bloom.

TO GROW IN GLASSES

To grow in glasses. Fill the glass with clean water until it almost touches the base of the bulb, put in a few pieces of charcoal to keep the water sweet.

Place in a cool dark cellar with plenty of fresh air until the roots have nearly reached the bottom of the glass which will take about seven weeks when they should be removed gradually to a subdued light, giving plenty of air but avoiding strong sunlight and draughts. The water should be changed once a week.

When the flower spike has attained an height of seven or eight inches it will be necessary to provide a wire support to prevent it from overbalancing.

The bulbs should be planted from September to the end of November.

The Roman Hyacinth is a very fragrant and beautiful variety. The flowers are smaller than those of the Dutch variety but are produced in a greater profusion. One bulb producing as many as four spikes of sweet scented white blossoms.

They may be grown in pots, earthenware pans, or shallow boxes. Plant the bulbs thickly in sweet porous soil, keeping the soil one inch below the top of the pot or other container. Water freely and place in a cool dark cellar or cold frame, covering them to protect them from frost. At the end of four weeks they should be brought to the light gradually into a cool room with a temperature about 50, advancing to 65 or 70 degrees.

Water freely with water about the same temperature as the room.

The bulbs should be planted during August or September for flowering about Christmas.

Now is a good time to prepare the compost.

NEWS, AND NO NEWS

News nowadays, it is feared, is not so reliable as it was. Perhaps it comes to us too quickly. In the good old days when it travelled more slowly it had usually made up its mind as to whether it was true or not by the time it had reached its destination.

Not so to-day. Is not the following true of many items of news:

Monday—It is rumored

Tuesday—It is generally believed

Wednesday—It is said in well informed circles.

Thursday—It is stated on good authority

Friday—It is unofficially admitted.

Saturday—It is definitely announced

Sunday—It is flatly denied

Two fathers of growing families were discussing the rearing and upbringing of children.

"Yes," said one, "a great deal depends on the formation of early habits."

"It does," said the other, smiling. "My mother employed a woman to wheel me about when I was a baby, and I have been pushed for money ever since."
